Without the right items, you can't compete with other players. But what about a situation where the item is all around better, but it has one statistic that is totally useless for your style of play? How does the recalibration work? Recalibration - Tips How does recalibration work? Items with the rarity of a classified set can be recalibrated twice. When this happens, you can use Recalibration, which is available through a special recalibration station that can be found in the terminal and the Clinton camp. Thanks to this process you can change one stat element to another, accidentally chose one. When it comes to armor you can change their stats such as basic parameters or damage against the elite bonus. As for weapons, you can change one of your talents. You need a lot of money to recalibrate the gear and Phoenix Loans for recalibration weapons. You have to remember that you can only change one statistic of a particular item. After recalibration of the item, you can repeat this process as many times as you want, but the only statistic that will change is the one that has already been changed. The exceptions are elements with a cool set. These are unique and much rarer items from the set - here you can change two statistics. Recalibration - Tips You can't recalibrate exotic weapons talents. Read the tips below before you start recalibration items: Remember that you can only change one statistic in an item. Think very hard and don't come up with any rash solutions because you can significantly reduce the potential effectiveness of this item. Items with a rare classified set can have two recalibration statistics. Remember that thanks to this mechanic, you can customize the item to be more appropriate for your character. Even an object that, at first glance, is useless, can become very valuable, slightly changing it. Each recalibration increases the future costs of this process. If you don't have the money to recalibrate the item, you can go on several missions underground and get valuable items. Then you can sell all the useless items - thanks to this you can get even a few million credits in a few hours. Recalibration allows you to change weapons talents. Use this mechanism to adapt the weapon to your game style. You can't recalibrate talents in exotic weapons - you can't emphasize that talent.
